Endangered Animals

Endangered animals are species where the number of animals living in the wild has been greatly reduced due to a variety of reasons, such as deforestation or changing climate. This means that they are at high risk of dying out in the near future if we don't take any steps to protect them. As one of such animals is Panda.

Panda lives in the south central of China. It is a lazy animal. It feeds on bamboo trees and sometimes eats birds. Adult male measures around 1.2 to 1.9 m tall and can weigh up to 160 kg. Panda has a thick black and white fur. This mammal lives up to 20 years. It is a vulnerable species, so there are a few numbers living in China mountains because of the deforestation, which destructed their habitats, and pollution. Also people hunt them for clothing or decorative items.
